

The barrel aged Flora is a transformed version of our three-flower saison, the Flora Rustica. Spending a year in lactobacillus inoculated casks changes the profile dramatically, as the earthy yarrow turns bright with lime-like aromas and acidity taking the place of the once firm bitterness of the young beer. This vintage shows an interesting character reminiscent of Italian quinquina wines, with a pleasant alcohol note and deep botanical elements, making it an excellent aperitif.

Flora is a historically profiled saison composed of four casks matured twelve months, appropriate for cellaring
