

Fantasia was the first significant fruit beer produced at Upright. Now, five vintages later, we can say that producing the beer has taught us tons of valuable information in regards to processing methods – notably the importance of fruit selection, barrel sourcing and maintenance, and proper conditioning. This batch is the first using casks that previously housed other fruit beers. Our recent change in carefully taking the casks apart to remove the old fruit, then reusing them, has the benefit of carrying over unique microflora that drives a complex mix of acids and aromas alongside the huge peach character that is the hallmark of the beer.

Fantasia is brewed each summer in casks full of fresh peaches, marrying themes from the Pajottenland and our own backyard
