

Ives Blend Five is a cherry version of our barrel fermented wild wheat beer. This bottling combines two vintages, the oldest aged 26 months before being combined with younger casks, yielding a pleasantly layered profile to complement the fruit. As is typical at Upright, restrained acidity and overall aroma and flavor balance are evident, making for an elegant, wine-like experience. Blend Five is easy to enjoy both casually or in detail, where the patient drinker will be rewarded with complex oak expression and other interesting nuances as the beer warms.
