

Saison Bruge is a new winter beer, marrying caramel malt flavors with fruity cacao nibs and spicy yeast notes. The openly fermented beer draws lots of aroma from our house blend of three saison yeasts, showing black pepper notes alongside slight roastiness from the malt and a fitting poblano note from the cacao. On the palate the components come together within a pleasantly creamy body thanks to the cacao butter carrying into the beer. Ultimately, the beer, while not actually sweet, has a satisfying richness and depth of flavor that rides a sweet and savory perceptive line.
