

Nectarine Donuts began as a collaboration with our dear friend Rick Nelson of Oedipus Brewing. On his last visit to Portland we produced an orange hued saison made with the intention of celebrating J Dilla and embodying donuts, using toasted grains and lactose to achieve a bready, sweet quality without any artificial components. We were happy with the result but knew we could take it to another level with fresh fruit, so we filled a cask with a grip of fresh nectarines. Walkinonit and geek down.
